

AKI provides funds for Ghana SPCA field trips for students in the Humane Ed classes.

AKI's core values influence all we do:

- We believe animal welfare has no boundaries.
- We believe improving conditions for animals goes hand-in-hand with improving conditions for people in our AKI Partner Countries.
- In all we do, we show respect and understanding for the human community, because working in animal welfare in AKI countries means working closely with the people who so rely on their animals.
- We believe our Partner Organizations are best placed to decide how to use AKI funds. We will not dictate. Our role is to oversee the use of AKI funds to ensure they are used wisely for animal welfare purposes only.

Donate to AKI today if you've felt powerless to help distressed animals in a country you've visited. If you're interested in helping animals beyond your borders. And if you want to help animals where the help is needed—and can accomplish—most.

ABOUT AKI

AKI supports existing animal welfare organizations in poor countries. Because they compete with so many other causes, these organizations are unable to raise funds within their own countries to cover their needs. Yet the work they do is so critical for improving the lives of animals.

AKI raises funds for, and sends supplies to our Partner Animal Welfare Organizations. We provide a secure means of delivering donations to our local partners, who so desperately need outside support.

AKI has a due diligence process that ensures donor funds are spent only for animal welfare, and that allows donors to track how our Partner Organizations use the donations.

You and AKI....building partnerships with animal welfare organizations in poor countries. Together we can improve the lives of the most vulnerable animals around the world.
